Apropos to the beginning of the fall season and observation of Indigenous Peoples’ Day, we look back on the first people to live here, the Passamaquoddy and Penobscot of the Wabenaki Confederation. Their name for Sullivan was Adowaukeag or Waukeag, which means “a horseback in a place where the tide runs out very strong” - undoubtedly referring to Tidal Falls. In the late 1800s when track was being laid for the railroad, a burial ground was discovered near the shore by Tidal Falls. An excavation was done, unearthing 25 grave sites of the Red Paint People, dating to 5,000 years ago. Another known site was located in East Sullivan, called the Watson Site on Flanders Bay, and this was first excavated by Jeffrey Smith and his classes from Sumner in the 1970s. These finds, numbing over 1,000 items spanning 4,00 years, were donated to the Abbe Museum and can be seen there today. In 1987, a field school took place on the site and found that this was an active trading area. Stone artifacts from the Maritimes and Great Lakes regions were abundant, and the site was occupied from at least the Late Archaic to the late Woodland period (3000BC to 1000AD). As a result of these discoveries, the Watson Site is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Greetings from RSU #24,

I hope this email finds each of you enjoying the wonderful weather! With fall officially starting, it brings with it the pretty colors of the season.

The start of the school year has definitely been a challenge for our new Charles M. Sumner Learning Campus. Because of unresolved issues, we were not able to obtain a Temporary Certificate of Occupancy for all students and staff to enter the new building. As a result, we did begin the school year with remote learning. Our teachers and support staff were given clearance to work from the building which was a help. We will be working in the coming weeks to get our students into the building. I appreciate the patience of our students and families during this difficult transition.

Our Pre-K through grade 5 schools started the school year on time and by all accounts our students and staff are adjusting nicely to the routine of school. We are fortunate that we started the school year with Pre-K programs in each of our district schools which will help our students and families get accustomed to the routine and expectations and to build a solid foundation for each of our students.

Thank you for your continued support of our district. As always, if you have any questions, please feel free to send them to me at meastman@rsu24.org.

Sincerely,

Michael Eastman, Superintendent
